RABBIT RAMPAGE

"What's up Doc?" Bugs Bunny, that carrot-chomping, "wascally wabbit" is searching out his nemesis who is constantly painting him into ever-changing corners. A lunatic animator is out to get Bugs, but little does he know that Bugs has an ACME arsenal at his command. He'll throw pies into the face of his enemy, use mirrors to deflect shrinking rays and paint skunk stripes on the backs of cats. There are many more tricks up this clever rabbit's sleeve. The animator throws Bugs into the middle of dangerous situations, each like a different cartoon. Bugs may find himself outsmarting hunting hounds in the forest with Elmer Fudd one moment and then find he is smack dab in the middle of a wrestling ring facing The Crusher the next. In the tenth and final level, discover the mad animator behind the chaos. Saturday mornings were never this crazy!

HOW TO START THE GAME

Insert the Bugs Bunny Rabbit Rampage Game Pak and turn the system ON. Press Start to begin the game. You have the option to change the controller settings. Press Select to go into the Options screen. Set-up Controls will allow you to change the controller settings. Reset Controls returns to the default controller setting. Trainer Screen lets you practice moves and setting ACME devices. You can choose the difficulty of the game play to "Practice" or "Normal" mode. To begin the game select Return.

OBJECT OF THE GAME

A mysterious animator is out to drive Bugs Bunny crazy by throwing him in the middle of one strange situation to the next. Each level has different enemies and Bugs-unfriendly traps. In this one-player game, Bugs must make it through nine levels in order to come face-to-face with the animator behind all of Bugs' trouble. Each game begins with 5 tries in the Practice mode or 3 tries in the Normal mode and you can gain extra lives by collecting "1 UP" icons. There are three continue options. Continues may also be given as rewards for style points at the end of each level. There are several attack techniques to use against enemies ranging from spinning attacks to pie-throwing. The wonderful people at ACME have provided Bugs with a variety of tricks to use against enemies, each with a different effect. Be sure to collect spinning arrows. They will allow Bugs to drop a "BUGS WAS HERE" sign. Each time you drop a "BUGS WAS HERE" sign it acts as a returning point after Bugs gets rubbed out by the animator's eraser. If Bugs can get past all of his rivals in each cartoon-like level, he will unveil the animator and dry up his inkwells once and for all.

GAME PLAY SCREEN

1. Lives: Shows Bugs' current number of lives left.

2. Energy: This meter represents the amount of energy Bugs has. The more complete the carrot is, the more damage he can take. It also monitors the spinning attack. Replenish the meter by finding and eating carrots.

3. ACME Device: The currently selected ACME Device is displayed in the crate.

TRAINER SCREEN

In order to get warmed up for the adventure ahead, you can play in a training area without any enemies. Here you can attack floating targets to get the hang of the controls. Select the Trainer Screen in the Options menu to try out your skills. You'll have a chance to practice the controls and learn how to use ACME Devices. To get out of the Trainer Screen hit the Start button.

ATTACK TECHNIQUES

Spinning Attack

Bugs will continuously spin by pressing the Pie-throwing and Kick buttons at the same time. During the use of this attack, Bugs knocks enemies out of the way and will be invincible but it will drain his energy. The attack can be used at all times except when Bugs is setting an ACME Device, being hit by an enemy or jumping in the air. This is the strongest attack available.

Kick

With all his might, Bugs releases an incredibly powerful kick. Yet, it is graceful at the same time. This attack is stronger than throwing pies but not as strong as the spinning attack.

Throwing Pies

There's nothing funny about getting a cream pie in the face, especially when Bugs is throwing them. This attack is weaker than the spinning attack and the kick, but Bugs has plenty of ammunition.

Super Squat Buster

By pushing the Jump button then the Pie-throwing button, Bugs will land on top of the enemy with a squat.

Release ACME Device

The A-button releases the ACME Device shown in the top corner of the screen. He must collect the items before using them and can choose the device to spring on an enemy when he has more than one available. The player can toggle through ACME Devices while the game is paused. This is an excellent technique to use to make sure that the device you want to use on enemies is ready to go without having to confront the enemies at the same time. By pressing the A-button, the ACME Device is dropped directly in front of Bugs. To throw the ACME Device long distance, press Up and the A-button. For an in-between throw, press Down and the A-button.

ACME DEVICES

Bugs will find ACME Devices to collect and use against enemies. When the time is right, the A-button releases the device. Some ACME Devices need to be triggered by an enemy getting within range or touching it. If the device is not triggered by a certain time, it will disappear.

ACME Devices will never backfire on Bugs and he is invincible while setting off the device.

To fight the Bull, Bugs will get his attention with a red cape. When the Bull charges, Bugs pulls the cape away to reveal an anvil.

These act as checkpoints for Bugs to return to when he loses a life.

If Bugs drops a black hole, an enemy will drop through it as they attempt to walk across it.

Bull's Eye

Bugs drops a bull's eye on the ground which when walked across by an enemy will drop an object on him (such as a safe or anvil). An enemy must walk across it to activate it.

Carrots

Chompin' on Bugs' favorite food restores his energy.

Cork

When Bugs faces the Big Bad Wolf, he can put a stop to the wolf's hot air by placing a cork in his mouth while he is inhaling. He'll fill himself up with air and float away.

Exploding Bones

Bugs throws a bone which attracts the hunting hounds and explodes when they pick it up.

Jam

Though it may be tasty in a sandwich, it does create a sticky situation. When Bugs throws the jar of jam, it spills over, trapping enemies in the gooey mess as soon as they walk into it.

Instant Mirror

By placing mirrors in front of Instant Martians firing shrinking ray guns, the shrinking ray will deflect off the mirror and shrink the Instant Martian.

Paint Brush

When Bugs throws the paint brush, it will paint a white stripe on a black cat. Pepe LePew will spot his "skunk-amore" immediately, carrying it off in a hot air balloon for a rendezvous.

Pie and Tomatoes

Bugs throws a cream pie or tomato that stuns the enemy for a short period of time.

Round Bell

When Bugs releases the bell, it tricks Crusher into thinking it is the end of the round. As Crusher stands motionless, Bugs can lay into him with an attack.

Tanks

The cute little tanks must be placed in front of the enemy. Once picked up, they explode in the enemy's face!

Lucky Turkey

Taz may think it's a gourmet dinner but this turkey is stuffed with a special blend of dynamite guaranteeing a bad case of heartburn. After Bugs releases the turkey, Taz pops it into his mouth then it explodes in his stomach.

TNT and Cannonball Bomb

Bugs must place this in front of the enemy to walk over. Once activated, the TNT or bomb will explode.

STYLE RATING

At the end of each level, style points will be determined by an internal score keeper the player never sees. Bugs will gain and lose points based on how he plays in the game. If the player uses brute force such as kicking or pie-throwing rather than an ACME device he will tend to score low. After all, it's not how you play the game, it's how much pizzazz you have. Also, the player will receive more points by making it through the level on one try.

Depending on Bugs' performance in the level he will get one of twenty ratings determined by the number of points the player has racked up. The ratings range from "Maroon" to "Super Rabbit". If Bugs receives a high style rating he will be rewarded. Some of the rewards include health, points, 1 up and continues.
